

the director's cut

> A NEW SERIES CELEBRATING THE ART OF THE FILMMAKER

Sir David Attenborough

In Conversation with Alan Marcus

Life on Air

Sir David Attenborough's distinguished career in broadcasting has spanned more than 50 years. An estimated 500 million people worldwide watched his 13-part epic Life on Earth (1979). Presenter of the popular series Life in the Freezer (1993), The Life of Birds (1998), and Life in the Undergrowth (2005), Attenborough has also written 17 books. In this Director's Cut, Sir David will be discussing key aspects of his career, including his latest series and book, Life in Cold Blood.

6:00pm, Mon.
30th June 2008

Arts Lecture Theatre
King's College

Free and open to the public

Book at:

<http://www.abdn.ac.uk/directorscut>

UNIVERSITY OF ABERDEEN

Sold out