

Fact Sheet

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

The University of Oregon is a public research university and a proud member of the Association of Pacific Rim Universities (APRU). The UO is renowned for its research prowess and commitment to teaching: the UO is a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU), a consortium of 65 leading research universities in North America. The UO is one of two AAU members in the Pacific Northwest, and the only one in Oregon. Founded in 1876, the institution's growing 295-acre green campus is situated along the Willamette River, within the city of Eugene, Oregon.

The UO is organized into 9 Colleges and Schools: the College of Arts and Sciences, the Lundquist College of Business, the College of Design, the College of Education, the Clark Honors College, the School of Journalism and Communication, the School of Music and Dance, the School of Law, and the Graduate School. Furthermore, UO offers 316 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. The UO has two additional campuses: one in Portland and one on the coast.

Nomination Procedure
All students who intend to participate in an exchange or visiting student program must be nominated by their home university/sponsoring agency. Please submit this form for each student you intend to nominate by the deadlines below. Information required to nominate a student: the student's full name, email address, major, period of study, and level of study.
Nomination Deadlines	Fall Term: March 1 Winter Term: August 15 Spring Term: November 15

Application Procedure

Once students have been nominated, they will be provided a link to the online exchange application. To complete their applications, students will need to provide the following supporting documents:

1. A photocopy of passport bio page. Passports should be valid for six months after the end of the student's study period. US citizens or dual citizens must include a copy of their US passport.

2. Official academic transcript. If the transcript is not in English, please provide both a copy of the original document along with an English translation verified and approved by the host university program coordinator.

3. Official DET, IELTS or TOEFL score. The test must have been taken within two years of the student's intended enrollment date. Citizens of the following countries are exempt from showing English language proficiency: Anguilla, Antiqua and Barbuda, Australia, Bahamas, Barbados, Belize, Bermuda, British Virgin Islands, Canada (English-speaking provinces only), Cayman Islands, Dominica, Ghana, Grenada, Guyana, Ireland, Jamaica, Kenya, Montserrat, New Zealand, Nigeria, South Africa, St. Kitts and Nevis, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and the Grenadines, Trinidad and Tobago, Turks and Caicos, United Kingdom.

Note: In order for the University of Oregon to verify English language scores, TOEFL and DET scores must also be submitted to the UO directly through the test provider (ETS for TOEFL, Duolingo for DET). Sending score reports is free for DET tests, but there is a 20 USD fee to send scores to the UO via ETS. To avoid any delay in application processing, students must submit both a PDF of their score report and evidence that they have requested the scores to be sent to the UO through their ETS or Duolingo account, as applicable. The UO's institutional TOEFL code is 4846.

4. A statement of purpose. Please describe why you are interested in studying at the UO (one page or less). Graduate Students must identify their intended host department in their statement of purpose.

5. Proof of financial support. Financial documentation demonstrating sufficient financial resources to support your estimated cost of attendance. Please refer to the Cost Sheet on the final page of this document to review the estimated cost of attendance for your program. You can submit one or more documents including:

- Personal or parents' bank statements
- Sponsor's bank statement
- Scholarship awards
- Government funding
- Educational loans

All financial documentation must represent liquid assets which are immediately available to pay for your studies at the UO.

6. Course Preference Form. Please use the most recent template. This form functions as a wish list, not a guarantee. Students should register for courses as early as possible in order to secure places in their preferred courses.

All documents submitted must be in English or include official English translations.

If Applicable: If students plan to study Architecture, Design, Art, or Music Performance, they must provide a portfolio of their work

If Applicable: Admission of graduate exchange students is subject to the approval of the student's department. Graduate students may be asked for additional documents during application screening. If graduate students are not offered admission to their intended host department, they will be asked if they wish to apply to take undergraduate coursework instead.

Application Processing: Most applications will be processed in 8-10 weeks, following receipt of a complete application file.

Application Deadlines

Fall Term: March 15

Winter Term: September 1

Spring Term: December 1

Academic Requirements and Eligibility

All students applying to study at the University of Oregon should have a minimum GPA of at least 2.5 on a 4.0 scale.

Students must be able to provide an official academic transcript with at least one semester of grades at the time of application.

Restricted Programs: Graduate programs in the School of Law and the College of Business are not open to exchange students. In addition, graduate-level business students are not eligible to take undergraduate coursework in the College of Business.

English Language Proficiency Requirements

All students applying to study at the University of Oregon must satisfy the UO's English language proficiency standards. The UO accepts the following tests: TOEFL, IELTS, DET. Students must submit official test scores that are less than two years old by the start of the student's first term at the UO.

Test	AEI Intensive English	Undergraduate	Graduate
TOEFL iBT	60 or below 60	61	88
TOEFL PBT	499 or below 499	500	575
IELTS	5.5 or below 5.5	6.0	7.0
DET	Below 100	100	Not accepted

Course Information

Once exchange and visiting students are offered admission to the University of Oregon, they will receive information about how to register for courses. The UO cannot guarantee placement into specific classes.

Note: Students starting in the Fall will register over the summer, after continuing UO students. Some classes may fill before exchange student registration opens. Students starting in the Winter or Spring will be assigned registration windows during the same time as continuing UO student registration, based on the number of credits they have earned prior to enrolling at the UO.

Before students are able to access the course registration system, they will need to complete several requirements. Students are encouraged to complete these requirements as soon as possible to avoid any delays in course registration. The requirements are:

1. Claim their DuckID
2. Submit proof of required immunizations in the myUOHealth Portal

Each course at the UO is assigned a course level. Courses numbered 100–499 are undergraduate courses; 100–299 are lower division (first- or second-year level), and 300–499 are upper division (third- or fourth-year level). Upper division courses are generally more rigorous and are more likely to have pre-requisites. Courses numbered 500 and above are graduate-level courses.

Exchange and visiting students can take courses both inside and outside their academic major. Popular courses and upper division courses may fill up very quickly, so students are encouraged to be flexible with their course selections and register for classes as soon as they can. Course registration is on a first-come first-served basis.

Students may view the courses most recently offered at the UO here. Please note that the courses offered may change from year to year and from term to term. Students are responsible for determining if they are eligible for the courses they intend to take.

Restrictions:

- Some courses at the UO have pre-requisite requirements. Pre-requisite requirements will be noted on the course page. Exchange students will need to be able to demonstrate that they have sufficient academic background and preparation to be successful in courses with pre-requisites.
- Some courses are restricted to students in a specific major
- Exchange students are not eligible to take graduate-level courses in the School of Law or the College of Business

Fees:

- All business courses and some art, architecture, biology, dance, sports and outdoor classes have special fees to pay for lab equipment, special programs, trips, supplies, or studio fees: these costs range between $20 to $100 and are not covered by the exchange program's tuition waivers. Students will be responsible for paying these additional course fees
- To confirm if courses have restrictions or additional course fees, students should pay close attention to the "Notes" sections of the course page.

In order to remain in compliance with their visa status, undergraduate students must enroll in a minimum of 12 credits per term, and graduate students must enroll in a minimum of 9 credits per term.

Health Insurance

All international students enrolled at the University of Oregon are required to hold comprehensive health insurance. International exchange and visiting students will be automatically enrolled in the UO's International Student Plan. Students will be required to pay the cost of the insurance plan, which is approximately 1,150 USD per term (3,450 USD for a full academic year).

International students with existing insurance which meets or exceeds the university's standards may request an insurance waiver. To be approved for an insurance waiver, students must provide proof of health coverage which meets the waiver criteria. Waiver criteria may be viewed here.

Please note that the waiver requirements are very strict. If a student's health insurance plan fails to meet each of these requirements, they will be denied an insurance waiver and will remain enrolled in the UO Health Plan.

Immunizations

In an effort to maintain a healthy campus, the University of Oregon has required vaccines and highly recommended vaccines. These vaccines address vaccine-preventable diseases that are often seen on college campuses. Exchange students are highly encouraged to satisfy UO immunization requirements before arriving on campus. University Health Services can also administer these vaccines to students once students arrive in the US, but this will delay course registration. See Costs for Services for vaccine prices. Immunization for measles is required by the State of Oregon.

A hold will be placed on the registration process of students who are not compliant with measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR) requirements. For international exchange students, the hold will be placed on registration prior to their first term at the University of Oregon. For more information about required immunizations, please visit this page.

Accommodation

Exchange and visiting students may choose to live in on-campus residence halls, university-owned apartments, or in off-campus housing. Placement in the residence halls is not guaranteed—early application is advised to increase the chances of placement. Students are responsible for arranging their own housing. Costs may vary quite significantly depending on where a student chooses to live.

On-campus residence halls: <https://housing.uoregon.edu/halls>

University apartments: <https://apartments.uoregon.edu/>

Off-campus housing: <https://offcampushousing.uoregon.edu/>

ISSS housing guide for incoming international students: <https://iss.uoregon.edu/arrival-handbook-campus-housing-resources>

Students will be able to apply for university housing (both residence halls and apartments) after they are admitted to the UO.

Note about residence hall capacity Fall:

Non-freshman students (which would include returning, transfer, exchange, visiting, and American English Institute students) starting at the UO this fall and looking to live on campus during the academic year are invited to register for housing once they are admitted at <http://housing.uoregon.edu/myhousing>. Registration begins in mid-December. Placement is not guaranteed and is on a first-come, first-served basis.

We anticipate spaces for non-freshman students will be limited. There will be an interest wait list if capacity is reached. The interest wait list will be used as spaces become available, with priority based on earliest registration date. Those who have not been offered a residence hall assignment by August 15 will be asked if they would like to remain on the list.

Note about residence hall capacity Winter and Spring:

Availability is not guaranteed—the ability to register for the residence halls for students beginning in winter or spring term will be dependent on there being available spaces after fall registration. Students may not know if they are able to secure a room in the residence halls until after the end of the term prior to their enrollment at the UO (after fall term for winter enrollment, or after winter term for spring enrollment). We advise winter and spring admits to seek off-campus housing.

Student Visa

Exchange students at the University of Oregon will need to apply for a J-1 student visa to study in the US. Once students are admitted, a DS-2019 is issued by the UO based on the student's admission to the University of Oregon and evidence of financial support. The DS-2019 is required to apply for a J-1 visa and is a required document for entry to the U.S. Students must keep their DS-2019 with their passport. The DS-2019 is sent with the student's official letter of admission.

Students may enter the U.S. up to 30 days before the DS-2019 program start date; not earlier! Students should carry their passport and visa, DS-2019, and letter of admission. Admission to the U.S. should be a smooth experience if everything is prepared in advance.

Financial Information

Most students who participate in exchange or visiting student programs at the University of Oregon will incur some fees that will be charged to their student billing account in Duckweb. Some of these fees may be waived for their program, while others will be the student's responsibility. For detailed information about the fees associated with the program and which fees students must pay, please review the "Cost Estimate Sheet."

Most Exchange Students: Matriculation fee, international student tuition fee, and up to 13 credits of tuition is covered per term. Responsible for paying mandatory fees, any additional course fees, insurance fees (Student Health Benefit Plan), and additional tuition if enrolled in more than 13 credits.

Visiting Students: Responsible for all fees charged to student billing account.
To avoid unexpected late fees or interest fees, exchange and visiting students should contact the exchange coordinator at exchange@uoregon.edu as soon as possible with any questions about the fees on their billing account.
