

Sara González Sánchez holds a PhD in Law and works as Lecturer in Business Law at Universidad CEU Cardenal Herrera (UCH-CEU).

She has experience in legal practice at prestigious firms, such as Deloitte and Garrigues Barristers. She has also served as Clerk of the Court.

She has been awarded with the Outstanding PhD Award for Social and Legal Sciences UCH-CEU for the work “Legal system of CO₂ allowances market” (2012/2013 edition), the second national award in civil and commercial law Centro de Estudios Financieros (2010 edition), the research award in social sciences and humanities Instituto Alicantino de Cultura Juan Gil-Albert (2007 edition) and the award for the best student of the Faculty of Social Sciences Ángel Herrera (2003 edition).

She has participated as researcher in several projects funded by the Ministerio de Ciencia e Innovación, Generalidad Valenciana and UCH-CEU. Her main lines of research are the EU emissions trading system and corporate governance. She is a research fellow at Instituto de Disciplinas y Estudios Ambientales (UCH-CEU) and at Cátedra de Derecho de los Mercados Financieros (Universidad CEU San Pablo).